

MAN WITH 2 WIVES FELICITATES WILSON

Indians From Western Oklahoma Congratulate President on Coming Wedding.

President Wilson was today congratulated on his coming wedding by an Indian chief with two wives and five children. The President expressed appreciation.

The private office of the President looked like an Indian wigwam while the congratulations were being exchanged. In addition to Little Man, the one with the two wives, there were Galt Chief, a venerable chief whose name apparently was derived from a fringe of sparse gray whiskers on his chin; Lion, whose six feet four made the President look like a schoolboy; Rabbit Run, Brain-in-Good, and Harry Morgan, who acted as interpreter, and S. S. Grove of this city, who had charge of the party.

In Native Costumes.

All were attired in their native costumes, with beaded jackets of beautiful design, red trousers and gaudy blankets. In their hands they carried feathered headdresses and great long pipes. The President looked dubiously at the pipes, but the Indians did not ask him to smoke. Little Man and Galt Chief are Cheyennes, whose language was unknown to the interpreter and had to be relayed through the other three, who were Arapahoes.

There was a babble of grunts and much sign-making as the President entered his office, where the Indians were waiting.

"They say," explained the interpreter, "that they could not leave the city without seeing the Great White Father and telling him their hearts are full of good feeling for him."

Little Man grunted some more and made other signs to Brain-in-Good, who exploded some gutturals in the direction of the interpreter.

"He wants to congratulate you on your coming wedding," explained Monroe.

The President shook hands with all of

British Casualties to Oct. 9 Put at 493,294

LONDON, Oct. 29.—Total British casualties to October 9 were 493,294, Premier Asquith announced today.

In the western war theater, he said, 4,401 officers and 63,059 men had been killed; 9,169 officers and 225,716 men wounded, and 1,567 officers and 61,124 men were missing.

He placed the killed in all areas at 6,660 officers and 94,992 men; the wounded at 12,633 officers, and 304,832 men, and the missing at 2,000 officers, and 72,177 men.

The premier's statement was a written reply to a question put to the government in the house of commons.

them and declared that it gave him much pleasure to greet them and to send his greetings to the tribes they represented.

The Indians came to Washington from their reservations in western Oklahoma to see about the sale of some of their lands. The deal was closed today through the Indian Office.

After leaving the President, the Indians blocked the doorway to the Executive Office for five minutes while they adjusted their brilliant headdresses to the focus of the camera man.

DRYS SEND FINAL WORD ON LICENSES

Attention to those phases of the Jones-Works excise law over which the House and the Anti-Saloon League have been at variance was called to the attention of the board today in a letter submitted by A. E. Shumaker, attorney for the league.

The letter was submitted by the Anti-Saloon League attorneys as a "final word" in the organization's protests against applications for licenses which the board must have passed on by tomorrow.

After setting forth that the league has done everything in its power to aid the board in reaching a proper conclusion in each case, the letter declares that the granting of licenses to hotels without fifty bedrooms is unlawful and that a club or hotel situated in a residential district or on a non-business frontage is subject to the same prohibition governing the location of an ordinary barroom. The letter further states that the "business frontage" must be in a business district, and that wholesale establishments are subject to the same law as to location that governs the granting of barroom licenses.

The Anti-Saloon League also takes occasion in the communication to declare that in its opinion the board has erred in measuring distances between saloons and churches and school houses.

PRESIDENT'S WEDDING PLANS STILL SECRET

Date Remains Mystery, and Nothing Is Known of Number to Be Invited.

Although the announcement of the date of President Wilson's marriage to Mrs. Galt is momentarily expected, the date still remains a mystery and a source of constant conjecture for social Washington.

There is no definite knowledge as to whether there will be few or many guests invited to the ceremony. It is understood, however, that the list will be strictly limited. Little Mary Tamm, Mrs. Lane and Sally McAdoo, who attended both White House weddings during the Wilson Administration, will be expected, be among the guests, and it is also considered certain that the members of the President's official family and the ladies of the Cabinet will be invited.

However, none of the Cabinet ladies have been informed of the wedding plans, and they are exceedingly anxious to know whether it is to be a morning afternoon, or evening event, so that they may make due preparation for the important occasion. The speaker of the House and Mrs. Champ Clark are also among the probable guests.

Has Busy Day.

President Wilson spent a busy day yesterday, receiving many callers.

After luncheon he motored with Mrs. Galt and played a game of golf. Mrs. Galt frequently makes the rounds of the White House, and when she does they manage to escape from the Secret Service guards, who, for the time being, content themselves with keeping the President in sight. Ordinarily one of the Secret Service men makes a round with Mr. Wilson.

Yesterday Mrs. Galt wore a handsome moleskin coat and a small black hat. The cluster of orchids from the White House conservatory, which usually adorns her shoulder, was conspicuous by its absence.

The President dined at the White House last evening with the members of his family and Dr. Cary Grayson, while Mrs. Galt dined at home. In the evening she was a guest at the marriage of Miss Helena Smith, daughter of Dr. C. Ernest Smith, pastor of St. Thomas' Church to Roger Bernard Berry, which took place at St. Thomas'.

Mrs. Galt was a member of that church for many years and it is rumored that for Smith may be asked to perform the ceremony when she is married to the President.

Coat of Arms Exhibited.

Much interest is being shown in the exhibit of heraldic devices now being held at the Willard, of which the Bolling coat of arms on a bed room in the family of Mrs. Galt is one of the most interesting features. The insignia is a shield with a scroll on which is written "Bolling" and a coat of arms bears on crest, indicating that it is very antique, and that the Bolling who secured it did so through some deed of valor in his country's service.

BOMB PLOT AIDES SAID TO BE SOUGHT

U. S. Detectives Reported to Be Searching Rendezvous of German Reservists.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Stories of mysterious movements of Federal detectives were circulated today, but United States District Attorney Marshall and Chief Flynn, of the Secret Service, refused to discuss the day's developments in investigation of the alleged plot to blow up ships carrying munitions to the allies.

It was reported that rendezvous for German reservists were being searched for accomplices of "Lieut." Robert Fay, Max Breitling, and other alleged conspirators under arrest. Flynn refused to comment on the story.

The government, it was learned today, will ask a continuance when the five men now under arrest are arraigned for a hearing next Thursday. Meanwhile the Federal grand jury investigation will have begun. It is planned to have the hearing postponed until after time has elapsed for the grand jury to return indictments.

NATIONAL GUARD MEN AND GARRISON CONFER

Officers Oppose Placing Proposed Continental Ahead of the Militia.

Secretary of War Garrison and prominent officers of the National Guard today are threshing out the question of what part the guard shall have in the new scheme of military legislation.

At the conference, among others, are members of the executive committee of the National Guard Association. This committee is meeting here preliminary to the National Guard convention to be held at San Francisco in the near future.

On the committee are Adjutants General Foster, of Florida; Cole, of Connecticut, and Metcalf, of Kansas; General Logan, of Pittsburgh, and General Harries, of the District of Columbia. The National militia board members are also conferring.

It is well known that many of the guard officers are opposed to Secretary Garrison's plan. They want nothing done that would put the proposed continental army ahead of the national guard. Efforts are being made to reach an adjustment.

PROSPERITY ORDERS SWAMP STEEL MILLS

Condition of Trade Is Better Than in Years—Future Bright, Says Gary.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—"The demand for pig iron and for the various lines of steel today is in excess of the producing capacity of the furnaces and mills of the United States," reads a statement issued by Judge Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel Corporation.

"The last remaining idle blast furnace of the corporation is being put into commission at Columbus, Ohio," says the statement.

"The manufacturers are unable to make deliveries entirely satisfactory to the purchasers with respect to a large majority of the different kinds of finished steel. There is nothing to indicate that there will be a decrease in the demand for any of these products in some time. While prices are still low, they are increasing and will go higher, so that fair profits may be expected."

These conditions, the chairman of the Steel Corporation admits, may be affected by the war business, though he sees a better feeling throughout the steel and iron trade than has been experienced for several years.

The conditions in the steel trade, especially state, have been unparalleled since the latter days of 1907.

Sebring's License as Notary Public Renewed

Francis A. Sebring, chief clerk in the Police Court, today started his twenty-sixth year as a notary public in the district when his commission was renewed by President Wilson. He has served five terms of five years each. The commission renewed today empowers him to serve until October 29, 1920.

MELLEN CLOSES HIS WEEK OF TESTIMONY

Quits Witness Stand and Court Prepares to Adjourn New Haven Case Till Wednesday.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Charles S. Mellen, former president of the New Haven, was excused from the witness stand today after giving testimony for more than a week in the trial of indicted directors and former directors of the road. Court will be adjourned tonight until next Wednesday when Mellen probably will be recalled.

Before stepping down from the witness chair, Mellen obtained permission to make a public statement, denying knowledge of matters referred to in the sensational "Judge Hall" letters read to the jury yesterday. The letters, written by Vice President Hall to Gen. Charles E. Braxton, "the Blind Boss of Rhode Island," regarded Braxton's alleged activities in stifling legislation hostile to the New Haven's interests. Mellen declared he never heard of the letters until he heard them read in court and that he knew nothing of the alleged dealings.

Post for Gunner's Widow; President Waives Rules

President Wilson today waived the civil service rules and by executive order appointed Mrs. Frederick Gillman, of Vallejo, Cal., as seamstress or flag-maker at the Mare Island navy yard. The woman's husband was a gunner on the ill-fated submarine F-4.

Rome Hourly Awaits Result of Cadorna Drive

ROME, Oct. 29.—Reliable reports from the front indicate that the great drive which General Cadorna began last week is about to achieve results of momentous importance.

The outlying section of the town of Riva, to the north of Lake Garda, is already in the hands of the Italians, and the announcement of complete occupation of the town is expected within a day or two. The reduction of the works protecting Gorizia to the east of the Isonzo River has progressed so far that the storming of the remaining defenses of the great fortress by the Italian infantry and the capture of the city are believed to be also the matter of but a few days.
